Busy weekend for area firefighters

A structure fire, vehicle rollover and medical assist had emergency crews for Algonquin Highlands on their toes during the Thanksgiving weekend.

The three separate incidents happened on Oct. 8 around 10:30 a.m., according to municipal fire chief John Hogg.

The calls occurred at the same time, resulting in multiple crews heading in different directions.

The first call was a single-vehicle rollover, which saw the car land on its roof in a ditch off of highway 35, just north of Carnarvon, according to Hogg.

The accident had the highway closed off until almost 3 p.m.

Two people were sent to hospital. Their condition was unknown at press time.

During the same time, Algonquin Highlands firefighters responded to a structure fire on Brae-loch Road at the cottage of Graham and Christine Mino.

No one was home at the time of the fire, which occurred at a seasonal residence and started in the attic, said Hogg.

"They had been up there working and left for the dump for about half an hour and when they came back they could see the smoke. Nobody was in there so nobody was hurt," said Hogg.

The cause of the fire is believed to be electrical, said the fire chief.

Voters return Scott to office

Chad Ingram
Staff reporter

It was clear from the time polls closed the evening of Oct. 6 that PC Laurie Scott was going to beat incumbent Liberal Rick Johnson to reclaim her title as MPP for Haliburton-Kawartha Lakes-Brock.

The first poll in from the riding had Scott up 11 votes and a joyous cry erupted from supporters gathered at the Lindsay Golf and Country Club.

And the numbers kept climbing.

Scott 113, Johnson 59.

Scott 3,026, Johnson 2,000.

A roar went up from those assembled each time new numbers came in.

In the end, according to unofficial results from Elections Ontario, Scott would earn more than 22,300 to Johnson's approximately 16,500, capturing 45.4 per cent of the vote to Johnson's 33.6.

"Laurie was chastised by so many people for giving up her seat for the good of the party," said campaign team member Art Ward, referring to Scott's decision to give up her seat in 2009, allowing then-un-elected PC leader John Tory a chance at carrying the riding.

Tory would lose to Johnson. "They've given her a chance to show her stuff," Ward said. "She worked so hard and really deserved to win."

In her victory speech, Scott, who arrived to thunderous applause and cheers, thanked those who had run in the riding.

"I think we should congratulate my fellow candidates in this election," she said. "It's not easy to put your name on the ballot out there and I think they all deserve a round of applause."

Scott had some particular words for Johnson.

"Rick did his best to serve the residents of Haliburton-Kawartha Lakes-Brock and I want to thank him for that," she said, requesting another round of applause for the defeated incumbent.

Scott said she'd travelled to every corner of the riding during the election campaign.

"I heard the same thing over and over," she said. "Folks were saying, 'Laurie, it seems like every time I turn around I'm being asked to pay more and more and at the same time I feel like I'm getting less and less in return.'"

Scott said she was honoured that the residents of the riding were once again sending her to Queen's Park.

"I will not let you down," she said. "I will provide the service in this riding that you have come to expect from me."

Scott thanked her campaign team, her family and her late father.

"My family has a long history of public service in this riding," she said. "My father was tremendously proud to serve as a federal member of Parliament for many, many years."

Election day would have been the 90th birthday of former MP Bill Scott.

When asked by the paper if she would step down from her position again, the answer was quick and definite.

"No."

Scott was first elected in 2003 and again in 2007.

Abel happy with performance

Dave Flaherty
QMI Agency

As he sat in third place in the race for MPP of Haliburton-Kawartha Lakes-Brock, NDP candidate Don Abel was in good spirits.

"We ran a really good campaign," Abel said while addressing supporters at his Cambridge Street campaign office in Lindsay. The former MPP for Wentworth North said he enjoyed being on the campaign trail again.

"It's been 16 years. I didn't realize how much I missed it."

Abel said he was happy with his performance, finishing third with about 17 per cent of the vote at 8,517 up from the 5.98 Lyn Edwards achieved in the 2007 provincial election.

Abel said he wasn't happy with the debates held during the campaign.

"They were more like question and answer periods," he said. When queried on his opinion of PC candidate Laurie Scott reclaiming a seat at Queen's Park, Abel said he wasn't all that surprised.

He didn't mince words when speaking about the new MPP.

"She didn't strike me as a strong candidate," Abel said, specifically referencing Scott's decision to one attend only two candidates' debates, which he called "picking and choosing."

Asked if he looked at this campaign differently from his previous two in the 1990s, Abel said he didn't but noted unique qualities in the two ridings.

"Wentworth North goes through a lot of changes, going from party to party," Abel said. "Here it seems people are either born into the Liberals or Conservatives but we are slowly making headway."

Abel touched on that later when speaking to his supporters.

"Our time will come. We've been there before and we can do it again," he said alluding to the 1990 victory for the NDP.

New adventure awaits Johnson after incumbent loses seat

Angelica Blenich
Staff reporter

At approximately 9:30 p.m. on Oct. 6 a hush took over the crowd gathered at the Olympia restaurant in Lindsay.

As supporters of Rick Johnson, incumbent MPP for Haliburton-Kawartha Lakes-Brock, watched national broadcasts declare PC candidate Laurie Scott the winner of the riding a sense of hope was lost.

For the liberal candidate who was elected to serve the riding in a by-election in 2009, in which he defeated John Tory, it was not the news neither he nor those at the party were hoping for.

When Johnson arrived at approximately 10:40 p.m. he was met with thunderous applause as he hugged those in the room before making his way up to the microphone.

— Rick Johnson

"I think there are more people at this party than the other one," said Johnson in reference to Scott's gathering at the Lindsay Golf and Country Club.

Having conceded to newly elected MPP Laurie Scott earlier in the evening, Johnson addressed the crowd with emotion and heartfelt thanks.

"I'll say this, the voters are never wrong," said Johnson.

Shouts of disagreement rose up from the crowd.

As a television in the background reported Dalton McGuinty's liberal government once again held the balance of power a look of satisfaction spread across Johnson's face.

"I'm very pleased Ontario has chosen a liberal government," he said.

During his speech Johnson thanked his family and friends for supporting him as an MPP over the past two years and during the recent campaign.

"I want to thank the people of this riding, you put your faith in me in 2009 and we've accomplished so much since then."

When asked why he thought he wasn't able to regain his seat Johnson pointed to the attack ads that were made during the campaign, referring to the negativity as American-style politics.

"Negative ads work, which is unfortunate. Even yesterday I was still hearing people call me tax man, tax man," said Johnson.

The result was not for a lack of effort and he remained proud of the work he'd done, he said.

"I wouldn't do anything differently. I slept well last night," he said.

Despite personal results Johnson said he was happy to watch reports coming in from across the province.

"It looks like it will be a tight majority, which means everyone will have to show up for every vote," he said.

Reflecting on his time as MPP Johnson said he was grateful for the time spent serving the riding of Haliburton-Kawartha Lakes-Brock.

"A limited number of people get this opportunity. I just hope this riding is served well," he said looking to the future.

Similar sentiments echoed throughout the restaurant.

Liberal candidate Rick Johnson hugs his son Micheal (with wife Terri at back) after he gave his concession speech to his supporters at the Olympia restaurant in Lindsay on Thursday, Oct. 6. Johnson held the Haliburton-Kawartha Lakes-Brock riding for more than two years. He lost to Progressive Conservative candidate Laurie Scott who won taking more than 45 per cent of the vote.

"Rick didn't lose, we did," said Haliburton resident Mel Smith.

"He was good for Haliburton," agreed wife Valerie Smith.

Despite being proud of the results he delivered for the riding at the end of the day it wasn't enough, said Johnson.

"It's one of those jobs where your record doesn't really matter."

Asked what his next step would be Johnson was unsure but optimistic, looking to resume his professional career as a musician.

"Another adventure is waiting for me tomorrow, but I'm good," he said.

Farmers' market seeking support, feedback

Chad Ingram
Staff reporter

It was a good season for the Haliburton County Farmers' Market, although its president says it's not out of the woods yet.

Oct. 7 saw the final market of the season take place near the intersection of highways 118 and 35 in Carnarvon.

There were 14 market days this season, the market's third.

"It went really well," said president Angela McGreevy, explaining the market had increased its number of vendors and diversity of products for the 2011 season.

There were 32 vendors this year and along with people selling fruits and vegetables, there was everything from homemade dog treats to Indian cuisine to shiitake mushrooms.

While McGreevy said she doesn't keep track of foot traffic, she does chart vendor income and this year, vendors made more money than in 2010, a positive sign.

However, there is still work to be done.

"A lot of markets fail in their first five years," McGreevy said. "The market needs community support. The market needs volunteers. The market needs feedback."

A survey was carried out throughout this season, asking customers' opinion on location, opening and closing time, products and other aspects of the market.

"People have so many reasons [for visiting farmers' markets]," McGreevy said, explaining she thinks people nowadays have a greater understanding of food and food safety.

She said the market's most common customers are women between the ages of 30 and 50.

The plan is for the market to continue next summer.

For more information, contact McGreevy at 705-457-9843 or email angelamcgreevy@rocketmail.com.

There was no shortage of freshly harvested goods at the final farmers' market of the season in Carnarvon on Oct. 7.

Drunk man charged with street racing

On Oct. 7 at approximately 8 p.m., officers from the Haliburton Highlands detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police were patrolling Haliburton County Road 503 in the Township of Minden Hills. At that time, officers noted a vehicle travelling in the opposite direction, at a high rate of speed.

Officers pulled the vehicle over and determined that the driver of the vehicle had been consuming alcohol.

Here's hoping

SO, THE VOTERS of Haliburton-Kawartha Lakes-Brock have forgiven Laurie Scott.

While voters balked at her suggestion to vote in former PC leader John Tory in the 2009 byelection, they took her back with open arms on Oct. 6, with her defeating incumbent Rick Johnson by some 6,000 votes.

(As some of you may recall, I'd anticipated the race would be much closer than that. Through your emails, letters, in-person shouting and borderline death threats, I also realize that I incensed many of you with a comment on the fate of Premier Dalton McGuinty and will admit, here and now, that I was very wrong.)

Johnson did a good job as MPP of this riding and Haliburton County in particular made out well during his tenure, enjoying millions of dollars of provincial cash.

Upgrades to the Minden arena, the refurbishing of Haliburton's downtown, a coming affordable housing complex for the county; all accomplished with dollars garnered by Johnson.

That his party was the governing one was certainly of assistance and that is something that may pose a challenge for Scott in getting the same kind of results.

Let's hope it doesn't.

It's up to you

There have been requests recently for the paper to shut down online commenting on its website. It seems that comments on some stories have become increasingly rude in recent weeks, with posters even going so far as to call each other morons and pigs.

Some of the more egregious ones have been removed. What a window into human nature those anonymous posts are.

Wow. It's incredible how childish some adults will act when they have the anonymous mask of a user name to hide behind.

However, it is the posters themselves, not the paper, who are responsible for the nasty tone the comments forum seems to have taken in some places. A decade into the 21st century, such anonymous online commenting sections are part of most newspaper websites.

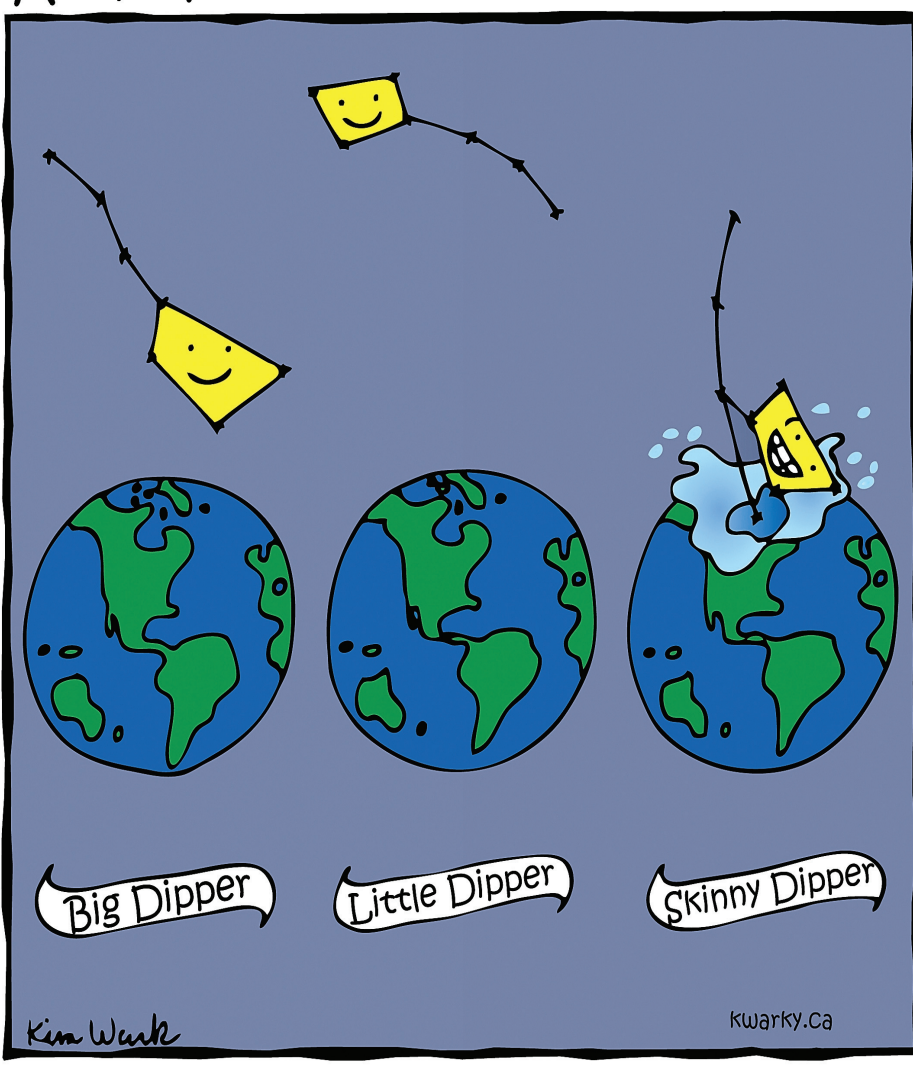

It's new media. Readers expect it.

On the paper's website, the topic guidelines read: "We welcome your thoughts, stories and information related to this article. Please stay on topic and be respectful of others. Keep the conversation appropriate for interested readers."

Those who choose to comment need to be responsible for their own actions.

The paper simply provides a forum. It's up to readers how it's used.

Celebrating the fall harvest

To the Editor,

Thanksgiving weekend was a splendid time to be in the Haliburton Highlands this year. The perfect weather conditions brought out creatures great and small, walking, biking and driving. Celebrating the fall harvest is always memorable with family, friends and neighbours. Driving around the dazzling lakes and rivers of the Highlands, up the hillsides, and along the backroads provides numerous photo stops in between the studio tour markers. The deciduous trees dressed in crimson, yellow and orange, with just a whisper of green interspersed in the treetops was delightful!

We found many wonderful welcoming signs of fall to view around the county and at street level on Bobcaygeon Road in downtown Minden. The spring/summer hanging baskets and planters are still blooming despite the severe frost this month and the eclectic banners handcrafted by local children and adults, attractively bedeck the air space above the sidewalks. This is a pleasurable sight for visitors and residents of the county. The eye-catching displays and the welcoming signs on the shop windows encourages people to stop look and visit.

Despite the fact that the Minden Hills Cultural Centre is close to "downtown" and is also on Bobcaygeon Road, the centre does not have, and has not had, a single hanging basket, no planters, not a pot of spring/summer flowers nor any type of spring, summer or fall decoration. There is no curb appeal, no focal point, nothing to attract the attention of a passerby. Not even a large attractive welcoming sign to say "Come In, We're Open" is visible. What a contrast to the downtown area. How very lamentable and extremely disappointing!

And they're off

YOU'VE PROBABLY NOTICED that the title of this column is a famous horse-racing phrase. "And they're off!" is what the announcer generally says when the horses are at the posts and the gates finally open.

Well, that's got nothing to do with this column – except that part about being at the post. You see the inspiration of this week's column was an article I recently read about the dangers of post jumping – which, as I discovered, is when a man sprints up to a post, places both hands atop it and attempts to leap over and straddle it with outstretched legs.

I'll be honest; up till now I didn't even know that this had a name. But I assumed that every man knew that it was dangerous.

But apparently I was wrong on both counts. You see, the on-line article I read was supported by video of a man clearly failing at it – and looking quite hurt and surprised to boot. More hurt actually.

So, as a public service, I think it's time that we examined this activity and why it is fraught with risk.

First, as previously noted, a post is typically immovable. Secondly, in almost all instances where injury occurs, it is, at least, one inch higher than required for painless clearance. Third, and perhaps most importantly, the post jumper is not like an airplane, meaning that he cannot retract his undercarriage after takeoff.

This should be reason enough not to do it. And yet some men still attempt it.

I'm really not sure why. After all, this is not exactly a win-win situation. For one thing, if you succeed, no one remembers. If you fail, however, no one ever forgets. In fact, I would bet money that there are still several undiscovered cave paintings depicting our long gone ancestors failing at this.

In my own lifetime, I have seen this happen twice. And – not surprisingly – both times, the fellows doing it were trying to impress women and alcohol was involved – if not before, then certainly after.

Fortunately, we all learned from this. Mostly, we learned that the average woman is not impressed by high-pitched whimpering and the sudden need for a below the belt ice pack. True, some women are, but they are not the type you want to spend much time around.

So why would a man actually charge "boys first" into the sort of danger? There are only three reasons I can think of: one, they want to try to cure a childhood leapfrog addiction. Two, they hope to get 5,000 hits a day on YouTube. And, three, they're hoping to avoid paying for a vasectomy.

There is really no glory to it. No one will even say a word if you walk past 100 posts without ever even thinking about jumping them.

Sure, you might argue that this is good clean fun. To which I'd say, you know, that doesn't ring a bell.

A ka-chunk for the future

YOU CAN HAVE some guy haul and pile your winter fuel from the other side of Buller, but that takes all of the romance out of heating with wood.

Or, if you have no trees of your own, you can arrange to have some dumped beside your driveway and spend your autumn evenings bucking and splitting.

But that takes most of the sport out of the thing, especially if your splitter has a gasoline engine instead of a wooden handle.

Out here on Sapsucker Ridge, The Brown Dog Jiggs and I do things the old-fashioned way. We fall a tree and then cut it up and split the pieces right where it drops.

Jiggs is the health and safety officer, but he is a bit of a slacker. Most of the time he is somewhere else, attending some government seminar or keeping me safe from porcupines.

Except when he is under house arrest, tied up out of harm's way while I bring down a tree, sometimes just about in the direction I intended it to fall. Sometimes without hanging it up.

Jiggs watches as I cut a notch to show the tree where it is supposed to fall, and then start a back cut. If I've done things right, that back cut starts to open up.

There might be the sound of tearing wood fibres and the tree begins to lean. I step back, hold my breath, watch it pick up momentum as it falls. Does the ground quakes when it lands? It sure feels that way.

The thing about wood-cutting is you get better with practice and that's when it gets really dangerous, because you get cocky. The pros have more accidents than we amateurs, or so I have read.

Spend enough time at it, and you begin to understand which way a tree wants to fall, and what might get in its way. On the ground, the tree shows you the easiest way to cut it into stove lengths, if only you take the time to look it over.

On Sapsucker Ridge, the real sport lies in finding a way home through a maze of rocks and stumps, of trees both fallen and standing, navigating a landscape as rumpled as your sheets after a sleepless night.

Time before memory, a windstorm throws down some giant maple and the tree rots into oblivion, leaving only a root hole to testify that it once existed. The ride home will be its memorial.

The battered old steel cart is loaded now with wood. Jiggs is on high alert. When I mount my ATV, he stands up. When I turn the key, he starts for home.

He sets off purposefully, tail wagging with delight at having a job to do. When I fall behind, he stops to look back over his shoulder, waiting for me.

By the time I catch up, The Brown Dog is waiting for me at home in the wood yard. Now he lies down, basking in the October sun, watching me unload and pile the wood that will warm our bones in the winter of 2013.

For the woodcutter is one of nature's optimists, harvesting for a future he assumes will include him, two years from now, confident that nothing will change his plans for the cords of wood that surround him.

Neil Campbell
Back of Beyond

Twenty face cords is the goal, but Jiggs will settle for 18 – 10 to keep him warm in winter, another eight to turn maple sap into syrup.

Late on a perfect October afternoon, we harvest on the shoulder of a little valley that falls away to the south of our cabin. Jiggs stands guard, no more than couple of hundred feet from home.

There is some uproar with the chainsaw but after that, bird chatter makes more noise than we do. I rattle the husks of new-fallen leaves as I walk and then there is the ka-chunk of maul striking wood.

Geese incoming, barks The Brown Dog. We stop to look up. I start counting at the vee, one, two, three . . .

Now they are directly overhead, white breasts tinted gold by the setting sun. Sixteen, seventeen, eighteen . . . their gabble fades into the sunset.

I raise my maul in salute. Ka-chunk!

Dorset ablaze in colour

Mike Baum
Special to the Times

The charming town of Dorset, situated on the shores of Lake of Bays is ablaze with autumn colours, not unlike a painting by Dorset-based impressionist artist, Elizabeth Johnson. Her paintings are infused with light, exciting colour and joy. Her studio/gallery has just opened on Highway 35.

Fall enthusiasts are enjoying breathtaking vistas of rolling hills and vibrant trees at Dorset's iconic lookout tower. The village also offers mirrored lake reflections, crisp invigorating air, the crunch of fallen leaves, and the cozy smell of wood fires.

It's a season of gathering in, and a time of celebration and thanksgiving.

Mike Baum Special to the Times

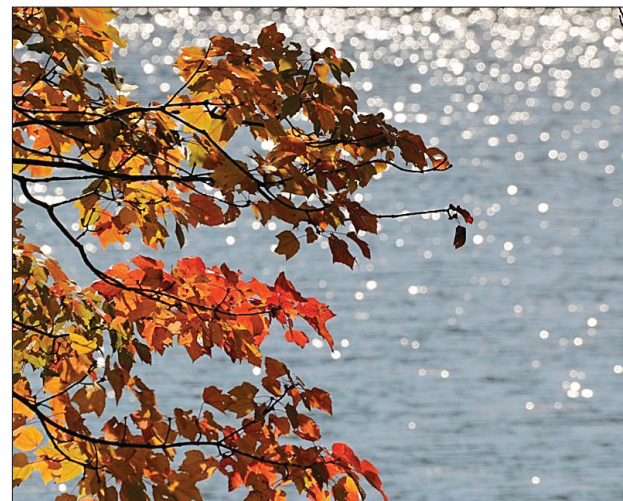

Crisp, invigorating air and spectacular colour add to Dorset's allure.

The Dorset lookout attracts visitors to the Highlads.

The studio of Elizabeth Johnson recently opened on Hwy.35.

Fall colours adorn the landscape.

Minden offers more options at cemetery

Installation of columbaria gives families more choice and takes up less space

Chad Ingram
Staff reporter

Columbaria, storage units for urns, were installed at the Minden Hills cemeteries along Bobcaygeon Road and at Twelve Mile Lake last week.

The first of their kind in the county, they will provide families an alternative for the laying to rest of their loved ones.

"The trend is towards cremation," said Minden Hills com-

The trend is towards cremation.

— Rick Cox
Community services director

munity services director Rick Cox explaining that columbaria were something members of the cemetery board were discussing when he started with the township some four and half years ago.

The cost for niches, which each have spots for the remains of two people, are slightly more than that of a traditional burial plot, but overall the option could prove cheaper for families, since using columbaria remove the need for a casket or headstone.

From the township's perspective, it's more cost effective because there is less maintenance and more people can be fit into a smaller space, leaving municipal land untouched longer.

The purchase was a significant one for the township, with the units at Bobcaygeon Road and Twelve Mile costing about $30,000 and $20,000 respectively.

There are 72 niches available in Minden and 48 at Twelve Mile Lake.

Cox said there is still landscaping work to be done. For more information, call 705-286-1936.

Radiothon brings in more than $35,000

Riley Maracle

Co-op student

Moose FM and Canoe FM partnered up with Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation on Sept. 29 and Sept. 30 to host a radiothon for the Seeing is Believing fundraiser for X-ray machines for Haliburton and Minden hospitals.

The two-day radiothon raised just more than $35,000, well above last year's total of $29,000. It is not the best total in the five years the radiothon has been running, but organizers are still very happy with the outcome.

The work of nearly 40 volunteers has brought the total up to around $105,000 for the Seeing is Believing fundraiser.

After raising $13,000 on the first day (an all-time high), volunteer Brian Daoust said they "just hoped we could keep the momentum going."

Daoust is the man who started the radiothon with Moose FM five years ago after the Art in the Garden fundraiser went by the wayside.

"We're very pleased," said Dale Walker, director of the health foundation, of the amount raised.

Book gala brings internationally renowned author to Minden

Frances Itani, member of the Order of Canada and accomplished novelist, poet and short story writer, is the guest of The Friends of the Haliburton County Public Library this year at their sixth annual book gala. Itani will be presenting her recently published new novel, Requiem, at the gala on Sunday, Oct. 30 at 1 p.m. at the Minden Hills Library in Minden.

Itani holds many writing awards for her novels and short stories. Deafening, which was a Canadian bestseller, won the Commonwealth Writers Prize and was shortlisted for the William Saroyan International Literary Prize, as well as the Dublin Literary Award. Her short stories, which have been featured in many anthologies and journals, have won several CBC Canadian Literary Awards. Poached Egg on Toast, a short story collection, won the Canadian Authors Assoc. Jubilee Award and the Ottawa Book Award for Fiction. Itani has worked as an editor, a creative writing teacher in Canadian and international universities, and was writer in residence at the Nepean Public Library, near Ottawa where she lives.

Requiem is a work of historical fiction with roots in the shameful story of the arrest and internment of Japanese Canadians in WWII. It is told through the eyes of an artist, Bin Okuma, who as a child was sent with his family to an internment camp in B.C. The novel shifts back and forth from the past to the present, as Bin, grieving for his recently deceased wife, embarks on a cross Canada trip to B.C., to the site of the internment camp and consequently to shocking family events of his past. Requiem is a tale of grief and loneliness, a story of a family caught up in events of history, beautifully crafted and written with passion.

When Requiem was launched this fall, it garnered great praise. October's Chatelaine magazine recommends Requiem in its Canadian fiction section, calling it "elegantly" told with "sensitive, poetic insight". The Ottawa Citizen on Sept. 9 said, "Requiem is a great work of literature from a determined author at the peak of her powers." Quill and Quire notes that Requiem is "an important addition to the literature of this unrepresented period in Canadian history." Published by HarperCollins Canada Ltd., Requiem will be available for sale at the gala, as will Itani's other earlier works.

Tickets for the gala are $15 and are available at Master's Book Store in Haliburton, Pharmasave in Minden, by phoning 705-457-2064, or emailing friends@haliburtonlibrary.ca. The gala starts at 1 p.m. with refreshments and a silent auction; author presentation is at 2 p.m. Memberships in Friends for 2012 can be purchased at the gala for $5.

Plan to attend this exciting literary afternoon with one of Canada's most outstanding authors. Come and take part in the silent auction, enjoy delicious refreshments, participate in a book signing session, and welcome Frances Itani to Haliburton.

Arts, business and tourism to be covered in three established publications

Each year, three local publications – The Haliburton County Destination Guide, the Arts Council Directory and the Chamber of Commerce Business Directory – are produced to promote and highlight the people, places and attractions that make this area a true 'Natural Work of Art'.

For the first time ever, Parker Pad & Printing Ltd. is combining local talent with state-of-the-art technology to produce each of these fine print products and see them through – from start to finish.

"We hope to highlight our county slogan 'A Natural Work of Art'," said Parker of the campaign.

To their credit, Parker Pad printed the past two editions of the Arts Council's Directory and the Chamber's first business directory, released earlier this year.

These full colour, compact publications will feature a wealth of editorial information profiling each corner of the county, event listings and special value added coupons from local businesses.

Reads of the week

Book of the Week, Adult Title:

Into The Silence by Wade Davis

On June 6, 1924, Britain's best mountaineer George Mallory set out to conquer Mount Everest – but he never returned. In Into The Silence, Wade Davis recreates the attempts made by British climbers, like the ill-fated George Mallory, to scale Everest in the 1920s, showing that how in the wake of the war, these treacherous Everest expeditions strangely became a symbol of national redemption and hope.

Local Celebrity Read:

Heather Thom, president of the Friends of the Haliburton County Public Library is currently reading Requiem, a story about a man coping with difficult memories by revisiting the site of the Japanese internment camp his family inhabited during his childhood.

Thom says, "I was first introduced to Frances Itani's work through her bestselling novel Deafening. I began reading Requiem with considerable anticipation and I have not been disappointed."

Thom explains, "The story is told by Bin Okuma, who, with his faithful dog, undertakes a cross Canada trip in 1997 to the site of the camp, to which he and his family were moved in 1942. I too have driven across the continent with a dog and I loved all the doggie details, and the joys and difficulties travelling with a dog, that are presented in the book. However, this is not just a "road trip" novel. Requiem is a special journey, spiritual in nature, undertaken by Bin as a time to grieve and to lay his past to rest. While the tone and topic of the novel are sober and sombre, the book is not, with many flashes of humour and amusing incidents. The poetic language, the overtones of musical scores running throughout, the reoccurring metaphor of a river constantly flowing through time and space, and the intimate painting of this significant historical period, all make reading Requiem very rich and rewarding." Thom concludes, "I look forward to hearing Frances Itani speak at the Friend Gala. That too will be rich and rewarding."

Book of the Week, Picture Book Title:

Waiting for the Biblioburro by Monica Brown and John Parra. Ana loves stories but in her small village there are only a few books – and she has already read them all! One morning, Ana wakes up to the clip-clop of hooves, and there before her is a wonderful sight: two donkeys (burros) carrying a travelling library full of books. Inspired by the heroic efforts of real-life librarian Luis Soriano Bohorquez, this colourful picture book introduces readers to a portable library that has journeyed over mountains and through valleys to bring literacy and culture to the children of rural Columbia.

News & Events:

The Friends of the Haliburton County Public Library's sixth annual Book Gala with Frances Itani will take place Oct.30 at the Minden Hills Library Branch, 1 p.m. Cost is $15.00/person. Call Linda at 705-457-2064 for tickets.

CANADIAN COIN ASSOCIATION IN HALIBURTON NEXT WEEK! PURCHASING ALL GOLD AND SILVER COINS!

BY: AMANDA HARDMAN
STAFF WRITER

The Canadian Coin Association is finally coming to Haliburton next week, and they're interested in all those coins you've kept stored away for the occasion that you would look into them! Well, that occasion has arrived. Bring your coins to The Canadian Coin Association, and have one of their numismatic professionals assess their current market value in the collectible market, FOR FREE! Canadian and American coins minted before 1968, can fetch significant prices with international collectors based on; condition, collectability, and metal content. Because they represent a large database of collectors on an international level, they are able to make on the spot purchases on their behalf! This week, you could be turning that old jar of coins into a vacation!

While in Vancouver, British Columbia, CCA was able to offer $79,000 for an 1893 Morgan Silver dollar minted in San Francisco. This specific coin is highly sought after in uncirculated condition, mainly because not many were minted in San Francisco that year. Collectors are willing to invest top dollar in order to add this gem, and other coins of its kind, to their collections. Recently, they were able to offer $30,000 for a Canadian twenty cent piece from 1858. Why? Because the collector, from Austria, had everything but that ONE coin for his series of 17th century Canadian coins and was willing to pay top prices to complete his set. Those two stories are just the tip of the iceberg for their coin experts. A silver dollar from 1948 can fetch anywhere from $500 to $13,000 based on its condition. Collectors are eagerly looking for pre 1968 proof sets, coins with specific mint marks, coins from specific years and international gold coins. Don't even get them started on the 1921 Canadian fifty cent piece! Coins are their middle name. For a fee of $0 (that's right, its free), you can bring that coffee tin full of coins to our educated team of numismatists, and find out if you've been harbouring a very well kept secret!

Even common coins can have a significantly higher value than their currency due to their silver content. Silver dollars, fifty cent pieces, quarters, dimes, even nickels are garnering maximum value. With the silver market higher than it's been in thirty years, it's definitely the best time to turn old coins into a healthy pay day! Because they have the time and space to do so, they have included bullion assessment in their services. The Canadian Coin Association is able to make offers for your scrap silver. Old tea sets, stamp collections from the Franklin Mint, and silver bars, are all examples of items that could be purchased on the spot! It's a bullion boom, and everybody's winning!

CCA's International collectors are also seeking gold coins from around the world. Maple Leafs, British Sovereigns, Kruggerands, Double Eagle gold coins and Gold Francs, are all examples of gold coins they are looking for on behalf of our collectors.

Because of their success within the numismatic community, they are also able to offer maximum value on all other gold as well. With the gold market at over $1500, all of your broken gold, scrap gold, jewellery, even dental gold, can be turned into quite the fist full of dollars.

What are you waiting for? Bring your coins and bullion into our numismatic professionals to have them evaluated. You just may end up having some fun, and walking out with enough for that vacation.

Thanksgiving Sunday found us at Crystal Lake for a delicious dinner hosted by son David, daughter-in-law Rita and granddaughter Emma. Around the table five countries were represented and Canada was the only one where turkey and pumpkin pie were family Thanksgiving traditions. In this weekend's Globe and Mail there was interesting information about turkeys. Remember those years suffering through school pageants starring the grateful pilgrims garbed in pious black and white with buckled shoes? Well apparently not the first. According to Globe staffer Michael Posner, 56 years before the Pilgrims gathered to thank the Wampagnoag tribe at Plymouth Rock a group of some 600 Spaniards in St. Augustine, Fla., held a Thanksgiving Day feast to celebrate their safe arrival likely in a more colourful fashion and fashions.

In spite of the sunny, warm weather grandson Ben, now seven, wore his royal blue hockey jersey to the cottage which minus all the usual game shoulder padding etc. strategically located his name FLEURY in bold letters right across his small bottom. Above the name was the number 8 which he had requested and proudly shares with favourite NHL player leftwinger Alez Ovechkin of the Washington Capitals. So what else do Ben and Alex have in common? Already Ben's ice skates only sport yellow laces just like his hockey hero.

Coming up on Saturday, Oct. 15 will be an open house hosted by the Kinmount and District Lions Club at the Kinmount Community Centre from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. This is an opportunity to learn more about what projects/services are supported by the local Lions Club and also enjoy a complimentary barbecue lunch.

Also on Saturday, Oct. 15 shop for great bargains at the monthly sale by the Friends of the Kinmount Library on the lower level of the branch from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. This is a good time to stock up for the colder days ahead and evenings by the fire. To celebrate Ontario Public Library Week librarian Mary Ann Dobsi invites everyone to a drop-in coffee hour and Book Discussion that day. The new program kids' corner is starting on Thursdays from 5:45 to 6:45 p.m. To register please call 705-488-3199.

Frances Itani, member of the Order of Canada and accomplished writer, is the guest of the Friends of the Haliburton County Public Library this year at their sixth annual book gala. Itani will be presenting her recently published new novel Requiem at the gala on Sunday, Oct. 30 at the Minden Hills Library, 176 Bobcaygeon Road, Minden. There will be a Silent Auction and refreshments at 1 p.m. with the author's presentation at 2 p.m. The cost is $15/person with tickets available by calling Linda at 705-457-2064 or purchased at Master's Book Store, Haliburton where the author's books are available and Minden Pharmasave.

The local colours seem to have peaked early with many leaves on the ground due to earlier rain and wind. Today while out on a pleasant drive through the Dorset/Dwight area and over into Algonquin Park we were greeted with scenes of autumn foliage well worth the price at the gas pump.

Until next week...

Give a high-five - Haliburton's film festival is back!

This fall, the Haliburton International Film Festival (HIFF) returns, bringing award-winning films from around the world to Haliburton County. Marking its fifth year, HIFF is a local film festival that offers movies for all tastes. It is an event that no Haliburton film lover should miss.

The festival will be held the weekend of Nov. 4, 5 and 6 at the Northern Lights Performing Arts Pavilion in Haliburton Village. Over the course of its three-day run, audiences have the opportunity to travel to the four corners of the world through film. A total of seven outstanding Canadian and International feature films will be presented, along with two great documentary films with local connections, and a program of short films by local film makers.

The Festival begins on Friday at 7 p.m. with the screening of Beginners, a critically acclaimed comedy/drama starring Ewan McGregor and Christopher Plummer about a 30-something man who is shaken by his elderly father's surprising announcements. At 9:15 p.m., the winner of this year's Golden Globe and Oscar for Best Foreign Language Film In a Better World will be presented. In this gripping drama from noted Danish director Susanne Bier, two Danish families who are worlds apart in their ideologies and circumstances come together as their parallel stories converge. It has become a HIFF tradition to screen the year's best foreign language film on the opening night of the festival.

Saturday's film line up begins at 10 a.m. with The First Grader, an inspiring true story about an 84-year-old Kenyan villager and ex freedom fighter who fights for his right to attend school for the first time. Next is the beautifully filmed romantic drama Jane Eyre, followed by a lovely little comedy from France - My Afternoons with Marguerite, starring Gerard Depardieu as a illiterate and lonely man who forms a friendship with a elderly well-read woman. Saturday evening's 7 p.m. film is The Trip, an irreverent comedy made for foodies and British humour-junkies, starring British comedians Steve Coogan and Rob Brydon as fictionalized versions of themselves. After the film, movie goers are invited to McKeck's - the BlueLine for an informal reception.

Sunday begins at 10:30 a.m. with The Illusionist (L'illusionniste), a visual feast that received multiple best animated feature film nominations. This beautifully crafted film from Belgium tells the story of an unemployed French Illusionist who travels to Scotland where he meets a young woman, changing both their lives. Sunday's afternoon program begins with 48-Create, a showcase of short films by Haliburton film makers and continues with two documentary films with local connections - 2 Days in September: the Corduroy Enduro at 2 p.m. and Canada's Best Kept Secret: The Natural World of R.D. Lawrence at 3 p.m. The film makers of both these interesting documentary films will be on hand to introduce their films and answer questions.

The Haliburton Highlands Grannies will once again be on hand throughout the festival, offering movie goers a selection of refreshments such as coffee, and tea, treats and snacks in the lobby between films. There will also be crafts for sale. All money raised will be donated to the Stephen Lewis Foundation's Grandmothers to Grandmothers Campaign.

"We are so happy to be able to bring these fabulous films to Haliburton County," says HIFF and Those Other Movies committee member Roberta Coles.

"Since we began our partnership with Film Circuit and TIFF in 2006, through the Those Other Movies film series and later HIFF, we have screened over 100 quality films that have entertained, educated, enlightened and even provoked our audiences. Many of the films that we screen have had extremely limited theatrical release, so we are really fortunate to be able see them here in Haliburton the way they were meant to be seen, on the big screen. This year, in order to make HIFF more affordable for everyone in the community, we have lowered the price of a Film Festival pass to just $30. Individual film tickets are only $5.00 each, as is Sunday afternoon's program that includes 48-Create and the two documentary films. We hope to see as many people as possible come out and enjoy these great films," says Coles.

HIFF passes will be sold at the theatre door the first night of the festival - Friday, Nov. 4. Individual tickets will sold at the door before the start of each film. For more information, including film schedules and movie descriptions, visit the Those Other Movies website www.haliburton-movies.com and click on the Film Festival button or email www.roberta@first-page-seo.com or call Lisa at 705-286-3696

Atom As defeat Parry Sound

The Highland Storm Atom As played against Parry Sound on Saturday, Oct. 8, winning the game 12-0. The boys kept the pressure on though the first period, battling hard in front of the net. To end the first period 1-0.

Going into the second period our boys kept the puck moving well, and skating hard. To keep the Parry Sound team from scoring, in doing so we scored two more goals in the second period.

After the flood the Storm boys came out with their second wind! We were on fire with awesome defensive plays, and some sharp shooting in front of the net we came out on top scoring nine more goals.

With some key goal tending the Parry Sound team weren't able to score a goal, through out the game giving Carson Sisson his first shut out of the season.

Luke Hunter picks up four points with four goals and an assist.

Owen Gilbert got five points with a hat trick and two assists.

Nik Dollo scored two goals assisted by Benn MacNaull.

Bo Stevenson scored one goal and three assists giving him four points.

Austin French scored one goal for his first goal of the season.

Zach Morissette scored one goal earning himself another point.

Shawn Walker got himself three points with three assists.

Lucas Haedicke also got two assists giving himself two points in that game.

Come on out next weekend and help cheer on the Atom As at our home tournament in Haliburton on Oct. 15 and 16.

Peewee As win handily

Our first season game proved not to be really a game at all, with Gravenhurst Flames having a very short bench. They were soon out skated by the Storm and at first they tried to rally but with the scored being posted (no mercy rule in effect) they started having a difficult time maintaining their confidence. The Storm boys despite the score used the game to hone their passing skills and it was great to see. They passed the puck around alot before taking shots on net, Gravenhurst did have control of the puck a few times and I think managed about 4-5 shots on the net. At the end of the game the score was 21-0 for the Storm. Several players came away with hattricks and multiple goals and assists. Oh, and I believe the Storm only got one penalty this game. I forgot to mention the Peewee As home tournament (the Matt Duchene Fall Classic) is Saturday, Oct. 15 all day in Minden with the playdowns Oct. 16 in Haliburton.

Bantam AE team loses a close one

The Bantam AE Highland Storm began the 2011-12 with a double header against Parry Sound on Sunday in Haliburton. In the season opener the Storm lost a close decision by one goal, 4-3. The referees were diligent in enforcing the new rules on head shots. Consequently both teams spent a lot of time in the penalty box and as a result neither team seemed to find a rhythm. Parry Sound however came out best in the special team battle scoring three power play goals. Despite a fine effort by goalkeeper Austin McKay the puck seemed to find its own way to the back of the net whether through screens or deflections. Brenden McKee led the way for the Storm with a goal and assist. Caleb Schmidt and Lucas Esson also scored with Jayden Wood and Ryan Edwards picking up assists.

The home team came out flying in the second game and blitzed the Parry Sound goalie with constant pressure. Jayden Wood opened the scored with a quick shot from the slot on a nice pass from Lucas Esson. Team captain Hunter Bishop then scored the next two goals with assists going to Damen Winder, Brenden McKee, Caleb Schmidt, and Morgan Hamilton. The next two goals were of a more spectacular nature. Jayden Wood beat the goalkeeper with a nice forehand to backhand deke with Angus Sullivan and Ryan Edwards drawing the assists. Brenden McKee also scored on a breakaway. After a race to the puck he was sent into the air by a sliding keeper but still managed to deposit the puck into the back of the net. A strong game between the pipes by goaltender Cole Finlay was spoiled by a late goal from Parry Sound. However he picked up the victory as the Storm won 5-1.

Highland Storm Peewee AE – Third Period Comeback

The Highland Storm Peewee AE team started the season in Minden by hosting the Huntsville Otters on Thursday, Oct. 6.

It was a slow start for the team, struggling in the first period and down by two goals. During the second period you could see the momentum picking up as the players found their positions, but still down 5-1. The third period proved best for the Peewee team when it all came together and the Storm found the openings and held the Otters in their tracks ending the game at a 5-5 tie. Goals scored by Alex Wilbee, Trevor Turner, Ryan Prentice and two by Mitch Billings. Three assists came from Alex Petrie, two from Alec Stoughton, other goals assisted by Carter O'Neil and Jacob Haedicke.

Highland Storm Peewee AE – Thanksgiving Weekend of Hockey

The Highland Storm Peewee AE team hosted both Port Carling and Parry Sound over Thanksgiving weekend. The excitement began in Haliburton on Saturday, Oct. 8 against Port Carling. The teams were evenly matched but despite the great effort from the Storm, they chalked up their first 4-2 loss. First goal scored by Ben Schmidt assisted by Alex Petrie and Jacob Haedicke, the second was unassisted by Mitch Billings.

The excitement continued the next day with a double header against Parry Sound. The Storm blew them away receiving their first shut-out victory, 11-0. A hat-trick going to Mitch Billings, two goals by Ben Schmidt, other goal scorers were Alex Wilbee, Matt Manning, Jesse Sisson, Alec Stoughton, Trevor Turner and Carter O'Neill. It was a full team effort with assists from Mitch Billings, Alex Wilbee, Matt Manning, Jesse Sisson, Alec Stoughton, Trevor Turner and a couple from Jacob Haedicke. Congratulations to Josh Bellefleur for a job well done! The teams met again later that day in Minden for another high scoring win. The Storm walked away with a 13-2 victory. Alex Wilbee and Jon Morrison shared two goals and two assists, Carter O'Neill and Alec Stoughton shared two goals and one assist. Matt Manning and Mitch Billings shared one goal and one assist, Ben Schmidt with 1 goal and Ryan Prentice with two goals. Other assists came from Jesse Sisson, Jacob Haedicke and Aidan Garbutt.

A great start to the 2011 season for the Highland Storm Peewee AE team, two wins, one tie and one loss!

Brenda Lee (Campbell) Moore who passed away October 1st 2010

A Million Times we've need you
A Million Times we've cried
If love could have saved you
You never would have died
Things we feel most deeply
Are the hardest things to say
Our dearest one we love you
In a very special way
If I could have one life time wish
One dream that could come true
I'd pray to God with all my heart
For yesterday and you

Nominations now being accepted for citizen award

Riley Maracle

Co-op student

A good kid is someone who takes control and works hard to make a community better, takes initiative in all aspects of life, is a good role model to younger individuals, has the courage or drive to overcome the challenges of living with disability or illness and still has time to help others, or in a desperate time of need acts out quickly to help someone.

Minden resident Alnoor Gowani falls under this category. He was one of the young individuals who won this award after diving into the Gull River and saving a drowning man.

He was nominated by Archie Stouffer Elementary School, the Ontario Provincial Police and Valerie Lennox the owner of Fast Lane Bowling Alley in Minden.

"My brother has always been my little hero, but that day he proved to be the town's hero; I am so proud of him," said Reema Gowani, Alnoor's older sister.

Since 1981 the Ontario Community Newspaper Association (OCNA) has been awarding young individuals who are doing or have done things like that.

If you know someone who has done something as heroic as Alnoor you can nominate him or her to become the 2011
Ontario Junior Citizen of the Year.

Nominate someone between the ages of 6 and 17 and help give them the recognition that they deserve. Nominations forms can be found on www.ocna.org or by calling 905-639-8720 ext. 239.

Nominations will be accepted until Wednesday, Nov. 30.

Deaths

Deaths

Crawford, Frances Mary (nee Colter)
1929 - 2011

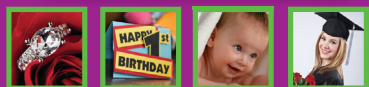

With profound sadness we announce the peaceful passing of Frances on October 1, 2011 at the age of 82.
Frances was a devoted mother, step-mother and foster parent, full of encouragement and praise, forever our foundation. She always put her "kids" first and was so very proud of each and every one. Frances is survived by her children: daughter Brenda and husband Richard, children Conrad (aka BUM) and Diana, grandchildren Taylor, Kaycee and Dustin; daughter Ann and husband Roger and daughter Lacy Jae; daughter Susan, children Andrew and wife
Liz and Jordan, grandson Drew; son Harold Dean Jr. and daughter Rachel, grandchildren Masaya and baby JR; daughter Judy and husband Brad and son Garrett; daughter Coralea and husband Jim and daughter Jessica. Frances took great pleasure in her continuous contributions of personally hand knit toques, mitts, socks and afghans to the Mustard Seed of Calgary. She committed tirelessly to her various volunteer and fundraising activities.
Frances is predeceased by her loving parents Angus and Lydia Coulter, sister Margaret, brothers Garnet, Harold, Leslie and Gerald. The family would like to acknowledge and thank the nurses and staff at Newport Harbour Care Centre. At the family's request, a private service was held in Frances' Honour. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in Fran's name directly to the Alzheimer's Society of Canada (#201, 222 - 58 Avenue SW, Calgary, Alberta, T2H 2S3). Expressions of sympathy may be forwarded to the family at mountainview@arbormemorial.com. Arrangements entrusted to Mountain View Memorial
